

New Cold Blast Sweeps as Far South as Texas

By UNITED PRESS

An Arctic air mass swept over the Midwest and sent temperatures plunging as far south today as northern Texas, Alabama and Georgia in the wake of Winter's biggest snowstorm.

The cold air held in check for the time being by a new storm center developing in Oklahoma that threatened to bring more snow to the Midwest.

THE SNOW blanket ranged from Texas to the Atlantic Seaboard and piled up to depths of 8 to 15 inches in some areas. At least six deaths were blamed on the snowstorm.

The Far West was soggy with a drizzling rain, with temperatures in northern California from 45 to 55 degrees. No letup in the drizzle was indicated by the weather bureau for the next five days. The drizzle posed no new flood threats, however, the weatherman said.

Rain and snow fell over most of the nation Friday night, but was light and scattered from the West Coast across parts of the Rockies and into the plains and Great Lakes region.

MOSTLY SNOW flurries fell from the Rockies eastward, with rain in Texas. Some scattered snow was reported over northern New Mexico mountains and mountain areas of Colorado and southern Wyoming. Light snow was expected today on the western slopes of Colorado and Wyoming.

Florida had another taste of a northern winter. The mercury dipped to the low 60s in the south and to near or below freezing in northern areas. At Tallahassee, Fla., in the northwest, the mercury registered 31 degree.

Sub-zero temperatures prevailed over North Dakota, eastern South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin in the Midwest this morning. Early today it was 20 below zero at Spencer, Iowa.

Below freezing temperatures spread eastward across the Ohio Valley and into Virginia.

Reprisal Fears Reducing Threat of Formosa War

TAIPEI, Formosa (U) — Communist fears of massive retaliation by U. S. and Nationalist bombers have largely reduced the threat of any immediate Communist Chinese assault on Formosa, military observers believed today.

American military officials have never stated it publicly, but there have been strong indications there would be no "Yalu River sanctuaries" for the Chinese Reds should they be "so unwise" as to attack the island.

TOP AMERICAN military leaders said they did not expect serious trouble over this threatened island during the next few months—unless the Communists want to go to war over Formosa.

U. S. military leaders on the spot and those who have visited here recently said they believed the "little war" near Quemoy and Matsu islands probably would continue as a series of bombardments, minor naval skirmishes and occasional aerial engagements.

BUT THEY all had one reservation—the situation could change almost overnight if the Communists decided to risk an all out war.

Vice Adm. Stuart Ingersoll, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet in the Formosa Straits and the man closest to the situation, did not see any increased tension around the island soon. Neither did he see a "big force buildup" by Red China opposite Formosa.

Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, looked over the situation here and said he did not think the Communists were going to attack Formosa or the offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy.

Savages Behead Two for 'Dowry'

MANILA (U) — Two unidentified Christians were beheaded by a group of Ilongot headhunters in the mountains of Nueva Vizcaya province of Northern Luzon, it was reported today.

Juan Castro, chief of a railway survey crew, reported to Army authorities that the victims were beheaded Tuesday while working at a lumber mill in Santa Clara Village. Castro said he presumed the heads were needed as a "dowry" by a bridegroom in accordance with traditions of the Ilongots.

Tanker Blast Laid to Hot Pipe

LAKE CHARLES, La. (U) — The U. S. Coast Guard planned to complete today its inquiry into a tanker explosion that left 19 men dead or missing.

Testimony late Friday indicated a leaking storage tank and a "hot pipe" may have touched off the holocaust last Wednesday night aboard the tanker Maritime Salem.

Two explosions which shook the area for miles sent sheets of flame across the tanker and two barges while taking on a cargo of gasoline and kerosene at the Cities Service refinery docks.

Salvage crews probing parts of the mishap, half-submerged remains of the ship Friday brought out six more bodies, all burned beyond recognition, and one odd leg. Three bodies had been found earlier.

From Page 1—MORE ABOUT DINNERS

THE NATIONWIDE "salute" to the President was built chiefly around 53 major dinners in 51 cities in 36 states. These blue-ribbon $100-per-plate rallies attracted an over-all attendance estimated at between 60,000 and 70,000 persons. Many similar but lower-priced affairs were held in scores of smaller cities.

The President appeared over closed-circuit television as part of a 30-minute program beamed to 49 of the larger dinners.

OTHER POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS:

1. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, a possible presidential candidate if Mr. Eisenhower doesn't run, defended the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy at a dinner at Palm Beach, Fla. However, he avoided any personal reference to the President.

2. Sen. Estes Kefauver, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, accused Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of blundering and boasting in his "brink of war" remarks. Kefauver said "a few more blunders like this and Secretary Dulles will have outlived his usefulness."

3. ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC presidential candidate, Adlai E. Stevenson, said some Republicans are engaged in a campaign "to discredit the intelligence, the honesty, even the loyalty, of Democratic leaders in order to capture or keep public office. Stevenson said the campaign is calculated "to obscure the facts and drown reason in a tide of passion."

4. J. G. Sourwine, chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, resigned to run for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in Nevada. The 47-year-old attorney will seek the seat currently held by Sen. Alan Bible (D-Nev). Bible has announced he is not a candidate for re-election.

5. IN LOS ANGELES, New York Gov. Averell Harriman, a potential Democratic candidate for President, accused President Eisenhower of being a "buck passer who just doesn't take responsibility."

The governor told a town hall meeting yesterday that President Eisenhower is "the biggest dodger of any President in memory."

As an example of "buck passing," Harriman referred to the President's reaction to Gen. Matthew Ridgway's assertion the Joint Chiefs of Staff were not unanimously in favor of reducing Army manpower in 1954. Ridgway has denied that he was for the reduction.

"He, the President, made the statement the Joint Chiefs of Staff were unanimous in this matter in his State of the Union Message," Harriman said. "For him to dodge it is rather alarming."

The governor said the President had passed the issue to the Secretary of Defense and the Chief of Staff to decide if he was right in speaking of the unanimous agreement.

THE RUDENKO BROTHERS are acclaimed by audiences and critics as America's Foremost Jugglers. Appearing nightly in the Starlite Room of Irwin Schuman's Chi Chi, they are continuing this reputation and adding to it with the applause of Village audiences. Headlining the current show is Arthur Blake, who presents a one-man comedy revue of mimicry and satire, and also being acclaimed is Vivienne Lloyd, one of the fastest rising young singers in the nation today.

World Famous Juggling Team is Hit at Chi Chi

One of the greatest juggling acts of this or any other century—the Rudenko Brothers — is now appearing in the Starlite Room of Irwin Schuman's Chi Chi.

The Rudenko's prodigious feats of balancing and juggling have been acclaimed by audiences and critics throughout the world, making them internationally famous.

The two brothers, 29 and 30 years of age, have appeared in Hong Kong, Singapore, Shanghai, India, Burma, China, France, England, Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Norway—plus leading hotels and night clubs in this country.

Perfection in any art calls for long years of hard work and practice, and this was no exception with the Rudenko Brothers. They were juggling practically before they learned to walk. All members of the family were jugglers, and by the time they were 6 and 7, George and Igor were expertly handling the Indian clubs and rubber balls. Two years later they were doing their own act.

Born in Russia, they moved to England when children. During World War II, they served in the British Army and upon discharge came to this country. They are now naturalized American citizens.

Tip Fraud Case Starts U.S. Probe Among Waiters

NEW YORK (U) — The Federal Government charged a former headwaiter at the famed Waldorf-Astoria hotel yesterday with failure to pay income taxes on $67,070 in tips he received over a four-year period.

Hans Paul, 63, now retired, paid taxes on his $3000-a-year salary, the government said, and even reported part of his tips. But the government charged that Paul only reported about half his income, which ran as high as $39,000 a year.

As a result of its findings, the Internal Revenue Service said it is beginning an investigation of all hotels and catering services in the area served by the New York office. A spokesman estimated that the government is being defrauded of millions of dollars each year in the income tax returns of persons whose pay comes largely from tips.

Ike's Director of Budget Quits

WASHINGTON (U) — Budget Director Rowland H. Hughes—smiling, rotund architect of the Eisenhower administration's balanced budget—has resigned.

Deputy Budget Director Percival F. Brundage will replace Hughes on April 1.

Hughes said he was resigning his $17,000-a-year post for "personal and family" reasons.

The 59-year-old budget director, who wears a black eye patch, left his job as vice president of the National City Bank of New York to become assistant budget director May 5, 1953. He succeeded Detroit banker Joseph M. Dodge as director 11 months later.

President Eisenhower accepted Hughes' resignation with "deepest regret." He lauded the New Yorker for helping in "re-establishing the nation on a strong budgetary foundation."

The normally quiet Budget Bureau was rocked last year when opponents of the Dixon-Yates contract charged various administration leaders with using "sly and clever" tactics to keep information about the contract from Congress and Mr. Eisenhower.

Soviet Cut-Price Scheme Feared in 5-Year Plan

WASHINGTON (U) — The Eisenhower administration today warily watched Russia's new five-year plan for signs some of the increased production will go for Trojan-horse operations in underdeveloped countries.

The Russians already are beginning to compete in world markets with "loss leader" items. The new production would enable them greatly to increase the competition.

OFFICIALS FEAR a flood of low-cost Soviet goods—mostly older machinery and weapons—will be used to undermine underdeveloped nations.

The Soviet five-year plan aims at higher production of steel, coal, oil and other commodities than even the late Premier Josef Stalin dreamed of ten years ago.

THE RUSSIAN man-in-the-street appears to be getting the short end of Red resources. He'll get a little more food, clothing and housing than before. But his increased share is far behind the huge resources to be poured into industrial production during the next five years.

For example, an analysis of the Soviet five-year plan shows that one out of every 55 Russians has a radio or television set. This will go up only slightly during the next five years.

Drive to Spruce Army Wives Will Go On

FRANKFURT, Germany (U) — Col. John Dilley is leaving the battlefield but his campaign against haircurlers and broad-beamed blue jeans will be carried on.

The Army announced Dilley's reassignment in March to 3rd Army headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. But an Army official said his successor will continue the drive to spruce up wives of American soldiers in the command.

Dilley cracked down in 1954 when he ordered American wives barred from local post exchanges and shopping centers if they showed up in slacks or pincurls.

EDITOR'S CORNER

by Oliver B. Jaynes

AIR AGE — The sky is getting so full of planes that they are running into each other now and then. In some areas definite air lanes have to be maintained to avoid collisions. Around most cities now the drone of planes overhead can be heard most of the time. It is also true here in Palm Springs which lies along most of the air routes between Los Angeles and Eastern cities.

In Florida—which is as flat as a pancake—the transport planes usually fly so low that they disturb conversation and are an annoyance. Some cities are asking the air lines to route their ships so they do not fly over metropolitan areas.

Plane travel is getting so popular that it is hard for the air lines to keep up with demands. The plush flights are often filled two weeks in advance; such as American's non-stop Statesman to Washington, D.C. and Eastern's Golden Falcon, Miami to Chicago. One air line carried 9200 passengers in one day during the Christmas holidays, I was told.

SERVICE FOR PALM SPRINGS — The popularity of air travel is now so great that any resort area must have good plane service to draw crowds. Palm Springs has been greatly handicapped by not having any plane service to the East without going back to Los Angeles. Bonanza now runs a flight from Thermal to Phoenix, where connections can be made for eastern cities but that requires two changes as a rule and people don't like to change planes twice on a flight. Resorts have to make it EASY to reach their communities — which is something Palm Springs hasn't been able to do. Three applications are now on file with the CAB for service which would put Palm Springs on an East-West route with stops here in both directions. The approval of air service like this will do more to popularize this Desert Resort Area than anything we have ever had. It has been clearly established through a survey that such a service would be well patronized. The CAB should grant this needed additional air service for Palm Springs and vicinity.

FASTER ONES SOON — In a couple of years or so the jet transports will be coming rolling out of the airplane plants and a new era of air travel will be on us. They will fly from Los Angeles to New York in a little over four hours. They will carry 200 people and fly above the "weather." These new ships will be almost vibrationless, marking a great improvement over the motors and props which shake the DC-6's and DC-7's.

People who have ridden in jet transports say the sensation is much different than the "prop" planes we ride in today. The smoothness, they say, is almost unbelievable. Reservations have already been made for the first jet transport flights which are scheduled more than two years in advance.

AIRPORT ACQUISITION — Palm Springs has an excellent airport — the only trouble is that it doesn't belong to Palm Springs. The city just leases it. It is Indian land. If the voters approve a proposal (at the Bond Election, February 14th) to purchase all of Section 18, which includes the airport, it will assure this community one of the best and largest airports in the nation outside the large cities. The city still would have to negotiate for purchase of the land. If it can be bought for the estimated $400,000 it would be an excellent investment for the city. Furthermore, it would be possible for the city to get Federal Aid funds for needed improvements in the facilities if the city owned the land.

Standing as we are at the dawn of a new air age, the acquisition of this airport land is likely to be of greater importance to the future of Palm Springs than many of us realize. Voters should keep this in mind when they go to the polls next month to approve or disapprove seven proposed capital improvements for this community. This airport land acquisition is an important one!

Something new with which to play,
No "Is" or "Os" on any plate,
None's a HOG, at any rate.

These new license plates with three letters and three numbers, are providing a new form of amusement for sidewalk gazers and those in the passenger seats of automobiles.

Many friends, fearful I will not have enough to fill up one of these pieces, have been calling in or dropping postcards, about odd combinations. Bill Eadden said the critic who called me because I mentioned used cars in 1953 should have seen the plate he spotted the other day—AGE 226.

Another man said he saw a number HOG 124. But either he or the other car must have been going too fast for clear reading. Because the state isn't using either the letter "I" or the letter "O." Could he be confused with the figures one and zero. Maybe he saw HCG.

UNDERSTAND the state is ignoring all requests for special plates such as LAW for lawyers, DOC for men of medicine and so on—with one exception. They are allowing, so I've been told, VET for veterans who have lost the use of a limb but can still drive automobiles.

While, with the ban on the letter O no one can have a ZOO, I spotted a GNU on North Palm Canyon Drive. Unable to recall at the moment what a GNU looks like, I believe it has a horn. Anyway, this one did, for the driver let loose with it when the car in front of him slowed down at an occupied pedestrian crossing.

RADIO STATIONS, attached to big networks, tried hard to land CBS or NBC without success. But I saw one plate on a car parked in the 200 block on the drive which a Los Angeles station would probably love to have—KEL 930.

Also I noticed an HMS, probably the car of a British naval officer. To date, while watching cars with the new plates, I have not yet spotted a BUM.

SEE BY The Desert Sun where city council has designated February 14 as the date for the $3,555,000 improvement bond election. Will probably go around asking everyone, "Be my Valentine."

Also in the same issue, noted where they plan to install traffic counting devices on Indian Avenue to check the volume of traffic. Those counters will have to be agile. Results of the traffic check will determine the need of street signals to operate during the season when the thoroughfare is full of vehicles, curb to curb. I can tell them right now where signals are much needed—the Palm Canyon-Indian Avenue Y.

It wouldn't slow northbound traffic into Indian Avenue, because, properly channeled, that light could be permanently green. It's the southbound drivers going from Indian to Palm Canyon, who need protection and guidance.

One woman told me the other day they should either put signals there or dig an underpass. The same holds true, she said, for side streets leading off Indian Avenue. For southbound, or home-going traffic, every turn is a left turn.

WELL, an appropriate license plate right here, would be END.

PROPOSITION NO. 1: SEWERAGE SYSTEM EXPANSION

With an average annual population increase of over 1,000 persons, and the resultant loads placed upon the public facilities of the community, Palm Springs is faced with the urgent necessity of a planned sewerage program. Such a program has been considered by the city administration and has been placed upon the ballot for February 14 so the citizens of Palm Springs may consider it also.

The present sewerage system, principally constructed in 1933, by the Sanitary District, generally serves the main commercial and portions of the multiple use residential district. The sewerage from this system is treated in a plant located in Section 19, which was constructed by the U.S. Government during World War II and was designed to treat approximately 700,000 gallons of sewage per day. These facilities have been overloaded on numerous occasions during peak winter days.

In the sewerage report recently prepared for the city council by experts in this field, it was determined that a sewage treatment and disposal plant having a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons per day will satisfy the city's population as it continues its rapid increase during the next ten years, after which time the plant's capacity could economically be doubled. The initial cost of the proposed first construction would be $981,712.

SO AS TO MAKE the entire sewerage collection system readily accessible to all locations within the city, one additional interceptor sewer and three main sewers have been proposed. These lines will cost an additional $888,288, making the total of $1,870,000, the amount constituting Proposition No. 1 on the February 14 Bond Issue election.

A complete sewerage collection system requires sewers to be constructed in every street, with connections to the immediate property lines of all improved lots in the city. It has been determined that such a direct benefit improvement should be financed by Sewer Revenue Bonds by which means only the users of the improvements would be required to pay for the benefit they would derive. It has been estimated that such a program could be constructed for $1,422,000.

The financing of these direct benefit improvements will be accomplished by levying a monthly sewer service charge in a manner similar to such utility services as electricity, water, telephone and gas. Such a sewer-utility charge is estimated at $2.25 per month for single bathroom residences and an extra charge of 37c for each additional bathroom. Comparable charges would be levied for other uses on a proportional scale according to the expected benefits of each such use. Users of the existing sewer system would be required to pay only about one-quarter of the above rates.

TO SUMMARIZE the Palm Springs Sewer Improvement Program, it can be said that the sewer improvements proposed on the February 14 ballot as Proposition No. 1 constitute the first phase of construction which has been determined as generally benefiting the entire city. These improvements would be financed with General Obligation Tax Bonds. Should a favorable vote be received on the above general benefit improvements, another election will be held to finance the direct benefit improvements by Sewer Revenue Bonds.

Assuming that the entire sewerage program is approved by the voters at subsequent elections, it has been estimated that the entire system could be completed and ready for use within two years from the first election. Such a time schedule would afford reasonable time in which to amortize the first costs invested in privately owned cesspools and septic tanks.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — Just when I was arranging for a rocket junket, Rory Calhoun jerked me back a few hundred years... telling how he's going big-game hunting in Africa with bow-and-arrow.

"It must not be such a crazy idea — there are 7,000,000 archers now in America," the tall, handsome, black-haired Hollywood star said.

His cute, vivacious, fully-packed Spanish B.W., Lita Baron, sang out:

"I shoot with the bow, too. I can hit a blonde at 400 yards."

"I've been bow-hunting and goat-hunting with a bow in California, Iowa, Louisiana and Mississippi," Calhoun offered this matter-of-factly while autographing pictures in their St. Regis suite.

"But are you that good with a bow?" I asked in all my country-boy innocence, thinking maybe I was being spoofed.

"No, but HE is," Calhoun wagged his head toward big, rough-talking Howard Hill, world's champion bow-and-arrow shot.

They're safariing south to Kenya of my readers already knows means "buffalo" in Swahili.

"Rory'll be o. k. as long as he he doesn't stoop over," shrugged Hill.

"Those rhinos won't be coming at him for his autograph."

"We're not hunting bow and arrow," Calhoun said, "We're not hunting rhinos with bow-and-arrow, Dad," mentioned Rory.

"Don't be advising your elders or I'll flatten you again," barked Hill.

"You do and I'll have you arrested for hitting a kid," Rory lunged back.

"This is the way these two talk all the time," Lita told me.

"This child here talks like he has two tongues," Hill grinned. "Anyway, people don't think you can kill a rhino with a bow. I just may do it. It makes an animal madder'n anything to have an arrow in his tail."

"I think it's sporting," Rory said. "It's no trick to shoot a deer with a rifle. With a bow, you give a fair chance. Howard," he added, "killed an elephant with a bow."

"He charged our camera down in Tanganyika," Hill explained. "It took about 8 minutes before he fell over."

Hill told of a tribe of so-called "leopard men" in Africa who, he said, were supposedly 7 feet tall and spotted, and who reputedly ate all visitors alive. They got a "bad reputation," he said.

"We didn't have any trouble with 'em," he related. The leopard spots were makeup. Before we went in, we made a deal with another tribe to hire 160 of their spearmen to take along.

"Can you really shoot?" I asked Lita, whose beautiful and feminine dancing you've seen on TV and in cafes.

"I've been practicing on our ranch on and off for 7 years," she said.

Rory and Hill will be taking plenty of firearms, too. Hill, who's originally from Wilsonville, Ala., has practiced bow-and-arrowing in Miami, Seattle, Los Angeles and Mexico, where he's lived, and has been on 15 safaris.

"It all started," he recalled, "when my dad got me a bow-and-arrow when I was about 8."

"I liked it and practiced for years. I didn't say anything about it, though, because people'd have laughed at me. I finally told them when I got good enough that if they'd have made a crack, I'd let 'em have an arrow in their pants."

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — The Navy's last great oil reserve, at Elk Hills, Calif., is going to remain just as it is.

Standard Oil of California will not be permitted to pump out an estimated $250,000,000 worth of oil from the "shallow zone" of the reserve in exchange for its rights in the "deep zone."

That's the blunt notice which has just been served by Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee.

The powerful Georgian served it on Navy Secretary Charles Thomas, in Italy rejecting a so-called "trade-out" proposal between the giant California oil corporation and the Navy.

The deal requires congressional authorization. Vinson was sounded out on this, as the legislation has to be considered by his Committee. For many years a vigilant watchdog of the Elk Hills oil reserve, the Georgian's answer was an emphatic "no." He voiced it in a terse letter, of which the high light is as follows:

"After examination of all documents, it is my opinion, that there are not sufficient advantages in this proposal. Since it does not represent an improvement in the position of the Navy Department over the present unit-plan contract, I would disapprove the proposal."

Secretary Thomas can go over Vinson's head and appeal to the full Committee, numbering 22 Democrats and 18 Republicans. But the odds are greatly against his doing that, for two reasons:

(1) Vinson has a decisive majority behind him, as "trade-out" proponents learned when they quietly polled committeemen; and (2) this is a major election year, and the issue is the kind that would be political dynamite on the hustings.

It would revive explosive memories of the uproarious Teapot Dome oil scandal of the Harding regime.

BOMBHELL — Elk Hills was involved in that notorious affair. Officially known as Navy Petroleum Reserve No. 1, and established in 1912, Elk Hills consists of 27,554 acres in the southern portion of the San Joaquin Valley. Standard of California owns approximately one-third of this oil reserve, and pumps it out at a fixed rate. About half the oil so far taken out, has gone to the corporation.

Total estimated value of the remaining oil is $1,500,000,000. This is not the first time Standard's "trade-out" proposal has been put up to a key congressional committee. The plan has been flitting around in the background since 1951.

On January 14, 1954, this column disclosed that a bill to authorize a "trade-out" had been quickly "delivered to the Senate and House Armed Services Committees with an explanatory memorandum signed by H. R. Folger, Acting Secretary of the Navy."

This mysterious measure was stopped dead in its tracks by Vinson. He announced that if anything was done about it, "I'll blow the lid off the Navy."

Subsequently the Georgian was told that one of the "authors" of the bill was Clark Clifford, former special counsel of ex-President Truman, and now a leading corporation lawyer in Washington. Prominent among Clifford's clients is Standard of California.

Vinson was also informed that Clifford was paid $50,000 by Standard to negotiate an increase in the amount of oil the company get from Elk Hills. The Navy raised this output from 6,200 barrels a day, of which Standard's share was 600, to 24,300 barrels, which boosted Standard's share to 2,800 barrels a day.

In Vincent's latest rejection of the Elk Hills proposal, he brushed aside the views of Navy experts. In his letter, Vinson says:

"The four calculations made by your experts on the basis of variable elements, when considered with the alternatives do not, in my opinion, alter the basic facts to be considered in arriving at a decision... The decision to change this contract should be made solely on the basis of the financial return to the Navy."

BOOK-TRADE journals often ask publishers to supply summaries of forthcoming novels in "35 words or less." Julien Dedman, of Scribner's, says that this practice been in vogue in the golden age of Athens, a prelude of "The Odyssey," probably would have read something like this: "Strange goings-on in murky waters off the coast of Greece. Several wanton murders by a character named Ulysses. When he finally returns home, he rubs out the suitor of his wife who was planning to divorce him for desertion."

The laziest man Larry Doyle ever met moved to Venice, Italy. It's the only place in the world, he claims, where he can sit drinking in a saloon and fish out of the window at the same time.

St. Paul's Holds Annual Meeting; Officers Named

The annual meeting of the Parish of St. Paul's in the Desert was held last week, at which time the business for the past year was reviewed, and officers for the new year elected.

Two new men elected to the vestry, the governing body of the local, Episcopal church, were Jacques Crommelin and Keith Herbert. Francis Crocker was re-appointed by the Rector to serve as the senior warden for 1955, the vestry electing Henry Greeley to serve as junior warden, Frank Camp as treasurer, and Robson Chambers as clerk.

The sixty-first annual convention of the Diocese of Los Angeles will be held in Los Angeles this coming week, at which time Bishop Bloy will preside over the business of the Episcopal Church in Southern California.

In addition to the Rector, the following men were elected to represent Palm Springs at the convention: Edward Maggard, Harrison Leussler, Frank Camp, William Tackett, John Connel and Collis Steere, the latter three to serve as alternates.

Services for January 22 at St. Paul's will include Holy Communion at 8 a.m., Church School at 9:30 a.m. and morning prayer, with sermon by the Rector at 11 a.m.

Bishop Bloy will make his annual visitation to the parish at 11 a.m. on January 29.

Church Mission Setbacks to be Sermon Topic

Although the Christian Church has met with many successes in the foreign fields, yet the church has also suffered some rather severe setbacks in recent years. This is a matter of deep concern for all Christians.

Pastor Le Roy Hass will discuss this matter in Sunday's sermon when he speaks on "Setbacks for Christian Missions in the Past Twenty Years," at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church service at 409 North Belardo Road. The Sunday service begins at 10:30 a.m. Sunday School and Adult Bible Class begins at 9:15 a.m.

The local chapter of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Laura Madison, 70-002 Hiway 111, Cathedral City. On Monday, January 23, the ladies will serve lunch for the Lutheran Pastors' Conference. The conference will be held in Palm Springs. Lutheran pastors from Needles, Hemet, Perris, Corona, Banning, Indio, and Palm Springs will meet for a full-day's conference.

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

The late Dr. Frank Crane was fond of telling a story about the days when horse-drawn wagons were more frequent than they are today. He was walking down the street and passed a place where a teamster had unhitched his horses to feed them.

Dr. Crane noticed that the heavy coils had been taken off one of the horses and that the horse's neck was very sore. He was concerned about this and went up to the teamster and asked, "Pretty hard, isn't it, to make a horse with a sore neck pull against that collar?"

"Yep," the teamster answered, "plum tough." And then he went on to make a remark that Dr. Crane never tired of quoting: "There wouldn't be much work done in this world, mister, if only horses and folks that are plum fit had to do it!"

I thought about Dr. Crane's story some time ago when I read about George Barnes in the newspapers. He's in the hat-cleaning business in Baltimore, but he has spent a good bit of time in Johns Hopkins Hospital during the past two years. When they sent him home last November, he was 73. Doctors had amputated his right leg because of congested blood vessels — his left one had been taken off for the same reason in 1944. They had also removed much of his stomach. And the surgeon had performed a major operation to relieve him of an aneurysm, a balloon-like swelling of a blood vessel.

He carries on his work from a wheel chair now. "I don't see any reason why I should just sit around and collect relief checks and look at myself in the mirror," he cheerfully told a reporter. "I feel just as good as I've ever felt." He lives alone, but this doesn't bother him. "I can take care of my house O. K. and I cook all my meals myself."

Mr. Barnes says, "I like to read the Bible. You'd be surprised how that helps when you run into a problem." He doesn't want people to pity him as just an old man.

trying to keep busy. He is trying to do something constructive. "My experience might show people," he says, "that if they just try to do something, they can do it. But if you don't even try, you're whipped."

That, of course, is the spirit that gets things done in this world, whether they be little things, medium-sized things, or great things. Many of us are all too ready to lay our burdens down and allow others to shoulder them. We give up all too easily.

This is not only wrong spiritually and morally; it is also a mistake physically. As Dr. William D. Stroud of Philadelphia told a gerontology symposium, "It is better that the patient fill out his life with rewarding work rather than worried rest." It is surprising how much better we do when we "just try," as Mr. Barnes says.

Of course no one will argue that seriously ill people should work. Obviously this is a matter for a doctor to decide in each individual case. But, by and large, intellectual and physical activity is a helpful thing, and those who keep active and alert to the very end of their days lead the most satisfying lives.

Nowadays, we hear much about occupational therapy as being a good cure for worried and troubled thoughts. Well, do I recall when I began working with people, especially with reference to their emotional problems. A country doctor of the so-called old school (perhaps he was more up-to-date than we thought) said, "The cure for a broken heart or a troubled mind is often as simple as for a woman to mop a floor, or a man to chop wood." It's certainly worth trying. If things bother you, get busy at some useful activity. It solves lots of problems.

This is a time-tested philosophy. In the Book of Ecclesiastes we read: "There is nothing better for a man, that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labor." (Copyright 1954, The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Open House Set for New Science Reading Room

First Church of Christ, Scientist Palm Springs invites the public to visit open house for their new Reading Room, 373 South Palm Canyon Drive, Sunday afternoon, January 22, from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The new Reading Room accommodates more visitors than previously, and is most attractive in appointments.

The decorating was done by Arthur Elrod, interior decorator, of prominence in Palm Springs. There are complete new furnishings, including drapes, carpeting, and dark walnut desks and chairs. Hemp grass cloth is used on the walls, while the color harmony of brown, aqua and beige lends a beauty of appearance and restfulness for study.

The Reading Room will be open daily, except Sundays and holidays from 12 to 4, and on Friday and Saturday evenings from 6 to 9, where authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed and purchased. The public is invited to visit and use the Reading Room, and to attend services.

Capacity Crowd Expected at Scout Dinner

A near capacity crowd of Scout Leaders and their guests, including several from Palm Springs are expected to attend the 36th annual meeting of the Riverside County Council, Boy Scouts of America, Monday night at the March Air Force Base Officer's Club.

A check of reservations made at Scout Memorial Headquarters at the close of the reservation deadline January 16, showed that nearly 400 tickets had been purchased for the dinner meeting according to John E. Jones, annual meeting chairman.

Program for the affair, which starts at 6:30 p.m. will include the launching of the new national "Onward for God and My Country" program of the Boy Scouts of America.

Major General H. K. Mooney, deputy commander of the 15th Air Force at March will be the principal speaker. It was announced previously that Brigadier General Robert Scott would be the speaker, but military orders prevents his attendance at the meeting.

Sunday Lesson Sermon is Truth

In the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" in all Christian Science churches Sunday, the Apostle James exhorts all to be "doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves," and he affirms, "Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed." James 1:22,25.

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states, "We know that a desire for holiness is requisite in order to gain holiness; but if we desire holiness above all else, we shall sacrifice everything for it. Prayer cannot change the unalterable truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us in to all Truth" (p. 11).

The Golden Text from Psalms (86:15) declares, "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plentiful in mercy and truth."

Noted Author and Humorist Tells Why He's Tough on Kids

By FRANK SCULLY

I have never written on juvenile delinquency before. But I do have kids of my own. I'm tough on growing kids.

I make it clear to our kids that in this life we really own nothing, best we are trustees of something and must guard and respect it, not isolate nor destroy it. Merely because we want something isn't sufficient reason for taking it.

I MAKE IT clear to them that I'm the boss, that if God wanted them to ride herd on me He would have put them into the world a generation ahead of me. Then I would have had to obey them.

But since He made other arrangements, there is nothing for me to do but to teach them the way, as St. Paul called it.

The other day I pointed out to them how important temperance is in all things. Even in the animal kingdom. We had a cat on the ranch at Desert Springs, a water hole about 80 miles from Hollywood. His name was Rover.

He really roamed. But he was a good cat for quite a while. He came home to chase mice out of bureau drawers and lizards out of typewriters.

He made the life of scorpions, rattlers, and centipedes miserable. They all left the place in a huff.

THEN HE started after rabbits. He could catch the young cotton-tails. He found them better eating than mice. Then he got fat. Then he got lazy. Then one day a coyote got him. No more rattler. No more Rover.

The moral of this, I pointed out to the junior members of the Scully Circus, should have been pretty obvious even to them.

If that cat had shown a little restraint in his eating, if he had not made a hog of himself, if he hadn't coveted everything he saw, he would not have gotten too fat and could have outrun a hungry coyote.

But he went the way of all potbellies, and paid the price with his life.

DO TALES LIKE this impress children? Does the moral teach them not to covet their neighbor's goods, swipe his automobile, steal his liquor?

If it does, then we are making progress against juvenile delinquency in the only place progress can ever be made—in the home. To expect schools, films, TV shows, draft boards or sandlot sociologists to do it is to expect reform from a hypo needle.

The parents who "give their children everything" and can't understand how they go wrong nevertheless, are our real enemies.

They drive the rest of us into competition with their brats in a downward spiral. And, meanwhile, the graph of juvenile delinquency keeps going up and up.

PEOPLE WHO give their children "everything" rarely give them a good example, and they rarely spank them for misdeeds. In fact, most of them don't believe in spanking.

I not only believe in corporal punishment, I dole it out. I have poured more brilliant advice on our kids than ever appeared in any books on child training.

And when I reach the end of a particularly inspired speech and I see I am being viewed deadpan, I let the culprit have it.

NOW, it may be argued that such a display of temper hardly becomes a man who has been making a pitch for temperance.

All I can say in defense is that I am only human, and when I know I am talking with the gift of tongues, and all my kids do is to act as if I were indulging in a lot of yak-yak, yak, I go for a slipper.

I used to use my hand, but that hurts too much. I mean that it hurts my hand too much. A slipper really gets below the surface.

THIS I REALIZE, puts me down as a brute not fit to raise children, but everybody who doesn't know the real facts of our private life thinks our children are charming, well-mannered, restrained, and amazingly intelligent.

It isn't as if I didn't know what I was doing. I once talked back to my mother the way kids talk back to theirs all the time these days. I did it only once, however. I was 17 at the time, and a big, hulking high-school athlete.

My mother couldn't believe her ears. She started after me with a slipper. I got outdoors just in time. She didn't follow me there because it was snowing.

Baby, it was cold outside. I shiver to this day when I think of it.

WELFARE AND FRIENDLY AID Association combined their work with a luncheon meeting at Deep Well Tuesday. Pictured at the luncheon table are Mrs. Roger Williams, Association president, and Carl Plate, director of the Palm Springs Youth Center, who with his wife, was a guest at the meeting. Welfare Group Has Luncheon

Occasionally the busy members of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Association combine a luncheon with their semi-monthly business meeting, and such was the case Wednesday noon when they met at Deep Well Ranch.

Mrs. Roger Williams, chairman, presided and introduced the guests of honor, Mrs. Mary Beezley, Health Center secretary; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Plate, co-directors of the Youth Center.

Luncheon arrangements were in charge of Mrs. George Ripley.

Others attending included the Mesdames Red Charlton, Andrew Fitzmorris, B. H. Poliak, Frank Ewing, Jack Freeman, Robson Chambers, John Wood, Joe Henderson, Earl Hough, Don Fry, E. K. Woods, Newton Hotchkiss, Arthur Coffey, Seymour Brown, and William Elliott.

Electric Grinder

MILWAUKEE — A combination electric meat grinder-ice crusher now joins the long list of labor-savers for the home. The grinder will handle virtually any type of food and can be purchased without the crusher attachment if desired. The crusher produces nine sizes of ice, from chunks to chips. (John Oster Mfg. Co., Milwaukee.)

Artist Says Beauty is Too Trite

By GUY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — If you were born beautiful, you are lucky by most standards.

But not in the eyes of Rene Bouche, who finds true beauties dull and boring.

Bouche is an artist whose subjects have included the Duchess of Windsor, Gloria Vanderbilt, former President Truman and Bernard Ginnell.

Bouche said he didn't particularly like to paint either beautiful women or classically handsome men.

"As subjects, they are boring and almost impossible to do," he said. "There is no challenge to the artist."

Inner Beauty

Bouche hastily explained he is talking about outward appearance.

"Some of the people you'd call ugly are in truth beautiful," he said.

"The late Albert Einstein... no great great shakes to look at but a beautiful human being."

The Czech-born artist said it is night onto impossible to define this "inner beauty." About the best he could do was call it "a compassion... a capacity for warmth and suffering."

But whatever it is, Bouche charges anywhere from $2,000 to $5,000 to discover and paint it.

The portrait artist studied formally at universities in Paris and Munich and has taught at the Art Students League in New York. His works hang in private collections here and abroad.

Men, he said, as a rule are easier to paint than women. "They are openers and freer," he said. "Like a lot of men, I find it hard to understand women."

No Faking

Most men don't care what they wear for a portrait. A woman will fret about whether she should be in white dress or pastel, or in high or low neckline.

"Women want the finished product to look pretty," said Bouche in an interview. "Men usually are very happy with the artist's interpretation."

"Some women will want the artist to paint out a wrinkle, thin down a plump chin. When I find one like that," he said, "I won't do the portrait. I will not fake my work."

If you have enough extra cash around to have your portrait done, take a free tip from Bouche. Be yourself when you start the sittings.

"A good artist will put the real you on canvas anyway," said Bouche. "But it takes longer if the subject freezes."

Economist Reports Frozen Items Costly

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Ready-to-serve frozen foods are easy to cook but sometimes hard on the budget compared with kitchen-prepared products.

Mrs. Glenna Lamkin, University of Illinois home economist, said a study showed that a home-made apple pie costs about 44 cents. A frozen one costs about 69 cents.

Texture and appearance often fail to meet good quality standards, too, she said. She said that the best use of commercially frozen foods is as "emergency dishes" and to add variety to the menu.

Cooking in the Future May

Simply Become Just a Hobby

CHICAGO — The home of tomorrow will have kitchens where cooking will be strictly a hobby, and beds that need never to be made.

That's the glowing future for Mrs. Homemaker pictured by Jay Doblin, director of the Illinois Institute of Technology's design department.

Doblin told the Illinois Tech Women's Club that the large kitchen equipped with many appliances will be obsolete within 10 years. He said cooking methods which enable airline stewardesses to cook meals for 60 people in less than 10 minutes will be translated to modern homes.

"Soon we will have compact radio-frequency cooking units in our homes," he said. "We will probably see the day when cooking, as we now know it, will be considered strictly a hobby."

Doblin's bed of tomorrow will have a radio-frequency heating unit. It will encircle the sleeper and keep him comfortably warm no matter what the outside temperature, he said.

Freeze Milk

NEW YORK — Home freezer experts say that homogenized milk and cream can be frozen successfully for one month. To thaw, place the cartons in the food compartment of the refrigerator overnight, or immerse in cold water several hours.

Ruby Ball Headed by Mrs. Kirk

The Lifelighters of the Ruby Ball have chosen as their theme for their fifth annual benefit "Continental Mardi Gras", and the grand ballroom of the new Beverly Hilton will be turned into a French garden of flowers, sparkling fountains, trailing vines and colored plumes, on the evening of January 28.

The beauty, color and festivity of the gala occasion will only be secondary to the purpose of the event. From the presentation of the Queen of the Mardi Gras to the last continental waltz, all the brightness of the evening will be submitted in part to bring light into the lives of God's Exceptional children. All proceeds, from the benefit will go to the Exceptional Childrens Foundation, which is wholly dependent upon the Ruby Ball for its maintenance and administration.

The romantic music of Mischa Novy and his famous continental orchestra, the typically European menu prepared by imported French chefs, and the strolling violinists at the cocktail hour in the Nordic room will all keep in spirit with the wonderful traditions of the Continent.

For the glittering mood of the Ruby Ball, Stephen Peck, a leading authority on interpretive dancing, has especially created a sensational Mardi Gras entertainment, complete with Can Can dancers, Pierrette and Pierot, a sophisticated "top hat" original number with his beautiful partner, Molly, to the magic rhythm of bongo players.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Kirk is president of Lifelighters. The group was also named because of its slogan, "Light a Life." Other members working enthusiastically for the cause are: Mesdames George Davis, first vice president; Byron Vandegrift, second vice president; Eugene Kegley, treasurer; Tex Ritter, secretary; Everett T. Small in charge of philanthropy; Rulon R. Free, publicity; C. This week which started in a blaze of glory . . . with the Playhouse premiere and the Sponsors Ball . . . will wind up tonight with the colorful Golden Nugget Ball . . . whether Her Grace (Grace Kelly, that is) is there or not . . . this should be one of the most exciting affairs of Winter season . . . it has been completely sold out for a week or two . . . and I hear some spectacular costumes will make this as gala as usual . . . This year the proceeds go to the Women's Auxiliary of the Palm Springs Desert Hospital . . .

Jacqueline Cochran, who spent the day at J. W. Robinsons . . . at her cosmetic show . . . was trim and beautiful and gracious as ever . . . Thursday evening . . . when Melba and Frank Bennett asked a few people, mostly Republican party workers and press, in to meet her . . . This great woman, whose aviation record and war record will stand comparison with any man's . . . was accorded a high honor by the women of Tulsa at week's end . . . She was honored at a banquet where seven plane models . . . representing the aircraft in which she has broken aviation records . . . were presented to General Twining, who accepted them on behalf of the Smithsonian Institute . . .

Alta and George Roberson arrived with a tale of a helicopter landing in their backyard . . . The Roberson home on Tahquitz is on the edge of the Desert Inn mashe course . . . It turned out that the whirlybird was supposed to be landing at Desert Air . . . not Desert Inn . . .

Zaddie Bunker had with her Miss Myrtle Thompson of Selma, North Carolina . . . who flew out here to visit Zaddie . . . Myrtle has her own airfield and flying school . . . and writes an aviation column, "Tarheel Air Currents," for the Raleigh News and Observer . . . While Zaddie was on her cross-country solo flight . . . forced down at Asheville by bad weather . . . she stayed with Myrtle . . .

Edith and Julian Bamberger have arrived from Salt Lake . . . by way of Las Vegas . . . and have been busy unpacking . . . and opening their Via Lola home . . .

At the opening of Alvino Rey in the Manor Room Thursday night . . . I asked Ned Crawford to order one just to see what happened . . . Sure enough, it baffled the bartender . . . But he knows how now . . . if you want to try one . . .

Ned and Joanne, who will be heading back to Portland in a few weeks . . . were guests of Orph and Lloyd Frank at the opening . . .

It was nice to see Father Mike O'Connor again . . . He was up from San Diego and having dinner with Andrea and Bob Howard, Father O'Donohoe, and Helen Kenaston . . . and looking hale and hearty as ever . . . Father O'Donohoe told me that there will be no Easter Festival this year . . . but a Valentine Ball at Shadow Mountain Club on February 14 will be a benefit for the Catholic churches . . .

Olman Joins Firm of Muriel Fulton, Realtor

Muriel E. Fulton, realtor, announces the association of George Olman as an associate broker, in conjunction with his activities as owner of Olman Travel Service in Palm Springs and Indio.

Olman is well known in Palm Springs, having lived here since 1947. With his wife, Janice, he established the Olman Travel Service and operated the George Olman Realty Company for several years as a joint operation. During the past two years, his efforts have been spent in establishing a branch office of his Travel Bureau in Indio. This office will now be under the management of Paul Danford.

Olman graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and from the University of Arizona Law School. He practiced law in Tucson, Arizona, until the war, and then served in the Engineering Corps of the Army until 1945. After the war, he spent a year and a half as an OPA rent attorney in Los Angeles. He then engaged in real estate activity in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills until the fall of 1947, when he came to Palm Springs.

Adult Evening School Plans Second Semester Classes

Palm Springs Adult Evening School gets off to a running start at 7 p. m. Monday, as registration proceeds for the second semester. A part of the Palm Springs Unified School District, the classes offer interested persons opportunity for work toward a high school diploma, toward vocational and cultural improvement, and for personal satisfaction.

All regular classes of the first semester are continuing, and are accepting students for the new term. Students interested in high school graduation should avoid delays in registration so that they may secure full credit.

NEW CLASSES which have appeal for cultural, vocational or civic improvements are instituted when sufficient interest is apparent. Interested persons are urged to call the office of the school. When teachers can be found, requested classes will be promptly organized.

At the present time interest seems to be lagging in the following classes: bookkeeping, color photography, metal shop, portrait painting, shorthand, typing, Spanish (advanced conversational), U. S. History and Institutions and in woodshop and upholstery.

Due to the necessity of maintaining a minimum attendance requirements, these classes are in some danger of being suspended. Since some students have already invested a semester of time in these classes, suspension of a class should be avoided if possible. Former students in any of these classes or prospective students are urged to join these classes, if they are interested, without delay.

CERTAIN DELAYS have caused postponement of announcement of a group of new classes. As soon as details are arranged, announcements will be made.

Below is the schedule of classes. For times and places, interested persons should call the high school office, 2393.

Monday — Bookkeeping, mixed chorus, silver and jewelry, wood shop and upholstery.

Tuesday — Basic drawing, color photography, comprehensive English, landscape painting, Spanish, conversational (advanced), typing.

Wednesday — Portrait and still life painting, "rockology" (lapidary), shorthand (beginning and brush-up), U. S. History and institutions.

Thursday — Landscape painting and mixed chorus.

Dr. Andrew Fitzmorris will be program chairman.

Safety Slogan for Schools Set

Students are required to repeat the slogan when boarding buses en route to or from school.

Triangular Putty

ANTRIM, N. H. — The latest aid for the do-it-yourself crowd is three-cornered putty. Made by the Goodell Co., here, the putty is packed in a tube with a triangular mouth. Squeeze it and out comes a long strip just the right shape for that space between glass and sash.

TAX FACTS

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

This article deals with investors in general—and retired people in particular.

Many people can stop filing income tax returns when they have retired, because no return is required from a person who is 65 or over and had less than $1,200 income, not including Social Security or Railroad Retirement Act benefits, which don't count.

But when retired persons are required to file, their returns can be quite complicated. First, let's look at some provisions that affect people with investments, whether they are retired or not.

ANYONE WHO OWNS stock needs to know about the dividend exclusion and credit. This applies only to dividends from corporations which are subject to United States corporate income tax; it does not include dividends from savings and loan associations, credit unions or foreign corporations.

Your first $50 of qualified dividends is tax free, and should be subtracted from the total of your dividends in a special schedule on page three of the tax form. Husband and wife are each entitled to exclude the first $50 for dividends on stocks that each own.

If you received dividends beyond this amount, you are entitled to a "dividends received credit." This credit is 4 per cent of the remaining dividends, but it cannot be more than 4 per cent of your taxable income, or more than the amount of tax otherwise due. This credit is not just a deduction from your taxable income—it is actually subtracted from your tax.

For example, if you received $550 in dividends, you can exclude $50 from your taxable income, and subtract 4 per cent of $500—or $20—from the tax you would otherwise have to pay. The last page of the tax form provides a schedule for figuring the amount of your credit.

IF YOU MADE A profit on the sale of stocks, bonds or other property you must report it as a capital gain on a special form. The same form is used for capital losses.

Detailed instructions are printed on the back of this form. Generally speaking, your profit on the sale of an asset which you held more than six months is taxed at half the rate of ordinary income—and never more than 25 per cent regardless of the tax bracket you are in.

Interest from state and municipal bonds is tax exempt, of course, but any gain from selling these bonds must be included in your tax return, and any loss can be reported as a capital loss.

THERE IS A provision for "retirement income credit" which may reduce your tax on pensions and investment income in some circumstances. You may be entitled to this credit if you are able to answer "yes" to all three of these questions:

1. Did you (or your deceased husband or wife) earn more than $600 in each of any 10 calendar years before 1955?

2. Did you receive less than $1,200 in tax exempt pensions or annuities in 1955?

3. If you are under 75, did you earn less than $2,100 in 1955?

The space for computing your retirement income credit takes up most of the last page of the tax form. It is not too difficult to work out if you read the instructions carefully.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—Fearless Fraley's Facts and Figures:
Any basketball coach will tell you that it's tougher to win on the road than it is at home but a survey by the University of Washington sets the average difference at nearly 12 points a game.

In the past 10 years of Pacific Coast Conference play, the Huskies had a 60-20 record at home and a 32-48 mark on the road. They enjoyed a 9.8 point spread average on their own court and, while traveling, averaged 1.88 points less than their combined home-and-home opposition. That's a difference of 11.68.

A LOT OF coaches contend that the spread is even greater when you go into such factional field houses as those of North Carolina State, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Kansas, Kentucky and Dayton. New York coaches squawk that it's even worse when they play their "home" games in Madison Square Garden.

"The referees who are 'homers' elsewhere lean over backwards in the Garden to prove that they're not," charges one coach. "That means we get it both going and coming."

You can draw your own conclusions, but Yogi Berra has swatted 208 homers for the New York Yankees in 10 years while Bill Dickey, a Hall of Famer, knocked only 202 in 17 years. And, if you like to argue the merits of Berra and Roy Campanella, the Dodger backstop, has hit 209 in eight years to put him only 27 back of Gabby Hartnett's record.

IT'S EASY to understand why San Francisco may not be the favorite in the post-season NCAA basketball tournament, despite its fantastic winning record, when it will lose K. C. Jones for the event. The San Francisco Forty-Niners pro football team showed interest in the six-foot, two-inch 205-pounder when he merely graduated from high school and the Minneapolis Lakers drafted him for pro ball last season in a since-nullified selection.

Jones is playing his fifth year of college basketball. After one game in 1953 he lost a year, and almost his life, with a burst appendix. The conference wiped out that year, but the NCAA wouldn't. If he was eligible, the Dons might wish they still had their ancient nickname of "The Grey Fog."

THE AAU BOXING team took a wallop on a recent European tour and, after hearing the report of Manager Ben Harris, you wonder how we won five of the 1952 Olympic titles.

Bobbing and weaving bring disqualification in Europe, where the judges score a jab as much as a knockdown punch. One Yank kayed a rival with a stomach punch and was ruled out for a "low blow." They really mean it when they say "stand up and fight."

Patty Berg Leads Despite Trouble with Her Putter

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Patty Berg set out today to conquer a "cold putter" along with the field of stars entered in the $5000 Tampa Women's Open golf tournament.

Miss Berg began today's third round with a one-stroke lead over Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif. The St. Andrews, Ill., veteran posted a one-over-par 76 Friday for a 147 total and was satisfied with all but her putting.

Failing to hit the ball firmly enough on the greens, she said, cost her bogeys on 16th and 17th and a missed four-footer for a birdie on the 18th.

Two of the steadiest performers in the professional ranks were coasting along in third and fourth place. Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., has a 149 total and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, a 150.

Erskine Signs for '56 Season

By UNITED PRESS

Carl Erskine, confident his arm is sound again and he will be a consistent winner next season, agreed to salary terms with the Dodgers today for close to the $20,000 he received a year ago when he was top winner on the staff.

Erskine sent in his contract from his home in Anderson, Ind., where he has been taking it easy and trying to build up his stamina.

Erskine, starting his ninth season with the Dodgers, has a lifetime 100-57 won and lost mark, one of the best among active regular pitchers in the majors.

The Dodgers, who now have a total of 17 players under contract, also signed two others Friday. They were utility infielder Don Zimmer and rookie Dick Gray, a third baseman, up from Fort Worth.

Yankees Loaded with Talent Says Optimistic Casey

By UNITED PRESS

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—The New York Yankees are "loaded" with talent at every position and do not need additional players, Manager Casey Stengel said today.

"Of course, I ain't saying we will win the pennant again," Stengel said. "That depends on how well everybody pans out for us and how the other teams strengthen themselves."

Stengel, whose Yanks have won the American League championship in six of the last seven years, said he had men "for every position," however.

"Why, I got so many shortstops I can't even remember their names. Of course Phil Rizzuto is still the best, but at his age 37 we got to have some help for him."

Renewal of Caliente Open Brings Memories of Past

By HAL WOOD

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (AP)—From the locker rooms at Winged Foot in Detroit to the Olympic Club in San Francisco, memories are riding high today as the Caliente Open Golf Tournament was resumed this week after a 20-year lapse.

The Caliente Open probably will go down in the hearts of professional golfers as the one that opened the door to a new way of life—the touring golfer—in the days when the biggest purse on the tour was $5000.

CALIENTE GAMBLERS put on a $25,000 tournament here in 1930. It was won by Gene Sarazen and he was paid his $10,000 first prize in silver dollars loaded in a wheelbarrow.

"That was comparable to winning the $100,000 world title at the Tam O'Shanter these days," recalls Ray O'Brien, PGA tournament director and a participant in the 1930 tourney. "It was the first real big purse ever offered to the touring professionals and really the start of big-time golf."

In the field at that time were such men as Horton Smith, who finished second, Al Espinosa, Leo Diegel, Al Watrous, Jimmie Thomson, Bill Mehlhorn, Long Jim Barnes, Vic Ghezzi, Olin Dutra, Denny Shute, Fred Morrison, Paul Runyan, Macdonald Smith, Whiffie Cox, Johnny Golden,

Watt's Squad Takes Hemet by 74 to 59

Redskins Rack Up First Victory on Opponents' Floor

By DAVE FISHER

Palm Springs Indians clung to their first place tie last night by scalping Hemet 74-59, while San Jacinto was edging out Beaumont 61-55 in an overtime period. It was a tremendous team effort by the Indians, who had four boys that bucketed ten points or better.

The game, as predicted, was a battle of centers. Hemet's Ray Sims proved himself to Palm Springs players and fans alike as the unbelievable Bulldog scored 25 points, in spite of an all-out effort by the Palm Springs defense. Charles Jordan, the Indian center, hit for as many field goals as Sims, but wasn't as accurate on the free throw line and fell six points behind with 19.

STEALING THE SHOW for the local five was Mickey Pellum. The speedy Indian guard surprised everyone by scoring 22 and coming away with scoring honors for Palm Springs. Pellum exhibited a great deal of spark, as he drove through the Bulldog defenses several times to bucket two pointers.

Hemet made it look like there was going to be an upset in the first period, jumping off to a 18-12 lead. In the second stanza Palm Springs held Sims to 2 and the entire Bulldog team to 8 as they took over the lead for keeps.

AFTER THE INTERMISSION the tilt broke wide open. Coach Ralph Watt's warriors scored 26 points to pick up as many as Hemet scored in the entire first half. Things settled down in the last quarter and the Indians played more of a ball control game.

In the preliminary contest, the Palm Springs B squad held the league leading Hemet team even for two and a half quarters, but then the Bulldog height got the best of the Indians. Final score was 56-40 with Curtis Roberts leading the Papooses in scoring, accounting for 14 markers.

NEXT TUESDAY Palm Springs will meet Coachella. Because the Arab gym is not yet completed, the game has been rescheduled for Palm Springs. It will be held in the local gym, the Varsity game starting at 7 and the B at 6.

Stars of Golfdom to Tee Off in Annual Tournament

The first group of 168 celebrity and professional golfers arrived at Thunderbird Country Club last night, and began practice rounds for the $15,000 fourth annual Thunderbird Invitational Pro-Amateur, set to start Thursday, and last four days.

There will be 42 of the nation's best pros, including Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, Mike Souchak, Arnold Palmer, Jack Fleck, Doug Ford, Jackie Burke, and Gene Littler.

SHELLEY MAYFIELD and Julius Boros will also return to Thunderbird. They were last year's winners. Boros, the 1955 top money-winner, was the pro in a one-pro-three-amateurs foursome which won the first event. Mayfield won the second, $12,500 event, for pros only.

Middlecoff comes fresh from winning the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach; Mangrum won the $25,000 Los Angeles Open; Mike Souchak is now playing the third round of the Caliente Open, and is presently three-up over his nearest competitor; Palmer is Canadian and Golfer of the Year, and Jackie Burke, along with Ford, Mangrum, Middlecoff and seven others, brought the 1955 Ryder Cup to Palm Springs in November.

BING CROSBY, at first expected to play in the tournament, will not be able to compete. Celebrities and top amateurs who are expected to play include Dean Martin, Gordon MacRae, Phil Harris, Johnny Dawson, and George E. Cameron Jr.

For the first two days, each pro will take charge of three amateurs, and the foursomes will compete on a best-ball basis. The pros in that event will split a $2500 purse.

Then the last two days, Saturday and Sunday, the pros will shoot for the big dough.

USF May Meet Trouble in Seeking 40th Against Cal

By HENRY RIEGER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pacific Coast basketball fans were as nervous today as an expectant father as they awaited the renewal of the University of San Francisco's bid for a new major college consecutive win mark.

The highlight of an otherwise slim schedule is the Stanford-Ore-State two-game series at Corvallis, Ore. Other doubleheader series this weekend match Oregon at Idaho and Washington State at Washington. Action in the California Basketball Association, USF's parent conference, also is practically nil.

Stanford, given little chance of winning 50 per cent of its games, in pre-season forecasts, has an overall season record of 10-1 and is the vanguard of the PCC's leaders.

cific Coast Conference teams—and they would like nothing better than to upset the Don victory train. The same mid-year layoff that has sent USF basketball to their examination books, has curtailed the week's court activity up and down the coast.

The highlight of an otherwise slim schedule is the Stanford-Ore-State two-game series at Corvallis, Ore. Other doubleheader series this weekend match Oregon at Idaho and Washington State at Washington. Action in the California Basketball Association, USF's parent conference, also is practically nil.

Stanford, given little chance of winning 50 per cent of its games, in pre-season forecasts, has an overall season record of 10-1 and is the vanguard of the PCC's leaders.

HOST PROFESSIONAL Jimmy Hines said pairings will be completed over the weekend with the help of secretaries Pat Jackson and Millie Rose.

Scoring and activities are being handled by Eddie Susalla and his staff, Bill Atkins, Roy Sanders, Mike Portik and others.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion are in charge of gallery ticket sales, and the jaycees will police the fairways during the matches.

SAM SEZ:

KRUSCEV, the Grand Mogul of Communist Russia, recently said, "There are many stupid people in the United States." He didn't tell us who they were, so I set Endol and Skatol to working on this case as my intelligence agents, and Skatol finally broke the case wide open. It is now proven that Kruscev was referring to those people living in Southern California who are not taking advantage of the opportunities presented in the Desert Realty Co. Saturday ads. (Good work, Skatol — an orchid for good sleuthing). We repeat some of these opportunities herewith:

1—Large Rancho Mirage lot, over ¼ acre, on Del Sol Road, opposite Desert Air Hotel and landing strip. Fly your plane in, walk across the street and be home. $6500 — $500 down — balance your terms.

2—8 unit court, A-1 condition, ½ acre lot, room for expansion. $18,000 handles, will pay its way, reduced to $32,500.

3—RANCHETTE HOMES—F.H.A. specifications and terms, $6650 2 bedroom; $7150 — 3 bedrooms; we sell you the lots, $1350 to $2000 each, monthly payments on homes $42.39, to qualified buyers approved by F.H.A. Come in and talk it over. Something new under F.H.A. for this district. We are appointed to represent big lending corporation on this project.

4—Half interest in 160 acres mountain resort land adjoining Cathedral City and Palm Springs Heights, only $4500. cash. Worth speculating on, in 3 or 4 years double or triple your money on resale. Taxes only $20 per year.

5—R-3 lots — 100'x200' — $4000, good soil, plenty water, view.

6—R-3 lot — 100'x135' — $2000, 2 ½ acre, C-1 lot, $9500, terms.

Price goes to $10,750 on January 25th, says owner.

7—6 ½ acre cove on Highway near new $3,000,000 Braemar project, and Bing Crosby's Trailer Park. Fine for night club with plenty parking space. All utilities in. Only $7500 down, balance over 7 years — underpriced 50%.

8—Save $300 in 3 days — all Cathedral Estate lots are to be marked up $200 to $500, each on January 25th, says owner. Big development going in. See us for the facts.

9—See us for motels — acreage — subdivisions — mountain resort land — homes — and lots.

BARGAINS... with Value!

ARTISTIC "Old World Charm" with EVERY modern convenience. This five bedroom, four bath house is the type families are always looking for. FR instance, the master bath has a sunken tile tub and shower. A gay wife-saver kitchen has a yellow Holly eye-level oven and range — the kitchen's complete from dishwasher garbage disposal down to a huge maple chopping block! The family room has a fireplace-barbecue. There's an English type "Pub" for Dad. The acorn shaped pool is family size too, 45' long. Payne forced air heat in the home too. $34,950 furnished.

LIVE ON TOP OF THE WORLD — LIVE IN LAS PALMAS ESTATES! Four bedroom and five bath home that's equipped by the owner without consideration of cost. The fireplace in the living room is a masterpiece. The television cable is in — the B I G screen television set is included with the furnishings. There's a beautiful south patio and large pool, which is heated and filtered. Grounds are artistically landscaped and completely walled. Duplication of home in this area, plus furnishings, at this price would be impossible. This is a bargain and the owner is offering very good terms. Priced at $52,500, furnished.
